The Gerund

A gerund is a verb without 'to' but with an -ing at the end. It looks like a progressive form, but it's used in the same positions as nouns.

Examples:

Playing, swimming, living

Different Functions of the Gerund:

- Susie says: Skiing is great. → subject
- I love skiing. → object
- I'm good at skiing. → after adjective + preposition